DESCRIPTION

I have tried so many peach cobbler recipes and this is by far the BEST peach cobbler! Made with fresh peaches, sugar, and a topping that bakes like slightly underbaked cookie dough, with crunchy sugar broiled on top.

INGREDIENTS

SCALE 1x 2x 3x

Peach Filling

~~5-6~~ <sup>8</sup> large fresh yellow peaches, sliced
1/4 cup sugar

Cobbler Topping

1/2 cup salted butter, melted
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
a pinch of salt
1/4 cup turbinado sugar (optional, but really nice) whipped cream or vanilla ice cream for serving *make an 'X' in bottom of peach. Place in Boiling water for 30 seconds. skin will peel right off.

(peaches shouldn't be overly ripe)*

INSTRUCTIONS

rect 7
- use ~~square~~ white porcelain dish - not oval*
- 1 Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Smear the bottom of 9x13 pan with a little bit of butter. Add peaches and sugar, and mix directly in the pan.
  - 2 Mix the butter, sugar, vanilla, flour, baking powder, and salt until a cookie-dough-like batter forms.
  - 3 Place scoops of the mixture over the top of the peaches. Spread with a spoon or with your fingers – no need for perfection here.
  - 4 Bake for 30 minutes. At this point it should be juicy and bubbly around the sides – if not, see notes.
  - 5 Sprinkle the top with turbinado sugar. Bake another 10 minutes and then finish with a few minutes under the broiler (475-ish) for a few minutes to get it golden brown and slightly crunchy on top.
  - 6 To get a thick saucy peach base, let it stand for 20-30 minutes before serving with some vanilla ice cream. But good luck with that.

If your peaches aren't getting saucy: If it's not saucy and bubbling after 25 minutes of baking, it's probably because your
